QUAKER
OATS

Don't be afraid!
 His playfulness denotes
 That, fed on grain,
 he sometimes feels his oats.

We first begin with quite an easy one;
 A pretty act when it is nicely
 done.

 This act is harder than the first, by far,
 This noted 'hopper is our leading star.

The giant's swing; a most surprising feat,
 Demanding strength, and care in what you eat.

A perfect balance on a slender stick;
You will agree this is a pretty trick.

8
The iron muscles for this daring deed
Come from the oats on which our artists feed.

A pyramid the Arabs cannot beat;
The strongest 'hoppers you will ever meet.

 To walk a ball adown a plane inclined,
 Requires skill, as anyone will find.

This feat, indeed, is very hard to do;
One of our best: we hope it pleases you.

To walk a rope and keep a level head,
Needs only care and QUAKER OATS, 'tis said.

Observe the ease, the gracefulness and tact,
With which these two perform their peerless act.

QUAKER
Oats.

This act, my friends, completes the 'hopper show;
Step up and try our oats, before you go!

THE WORLD'S BREAKFAST.
